

T

T E A C H I N G

A N T H R O P O L O G Y

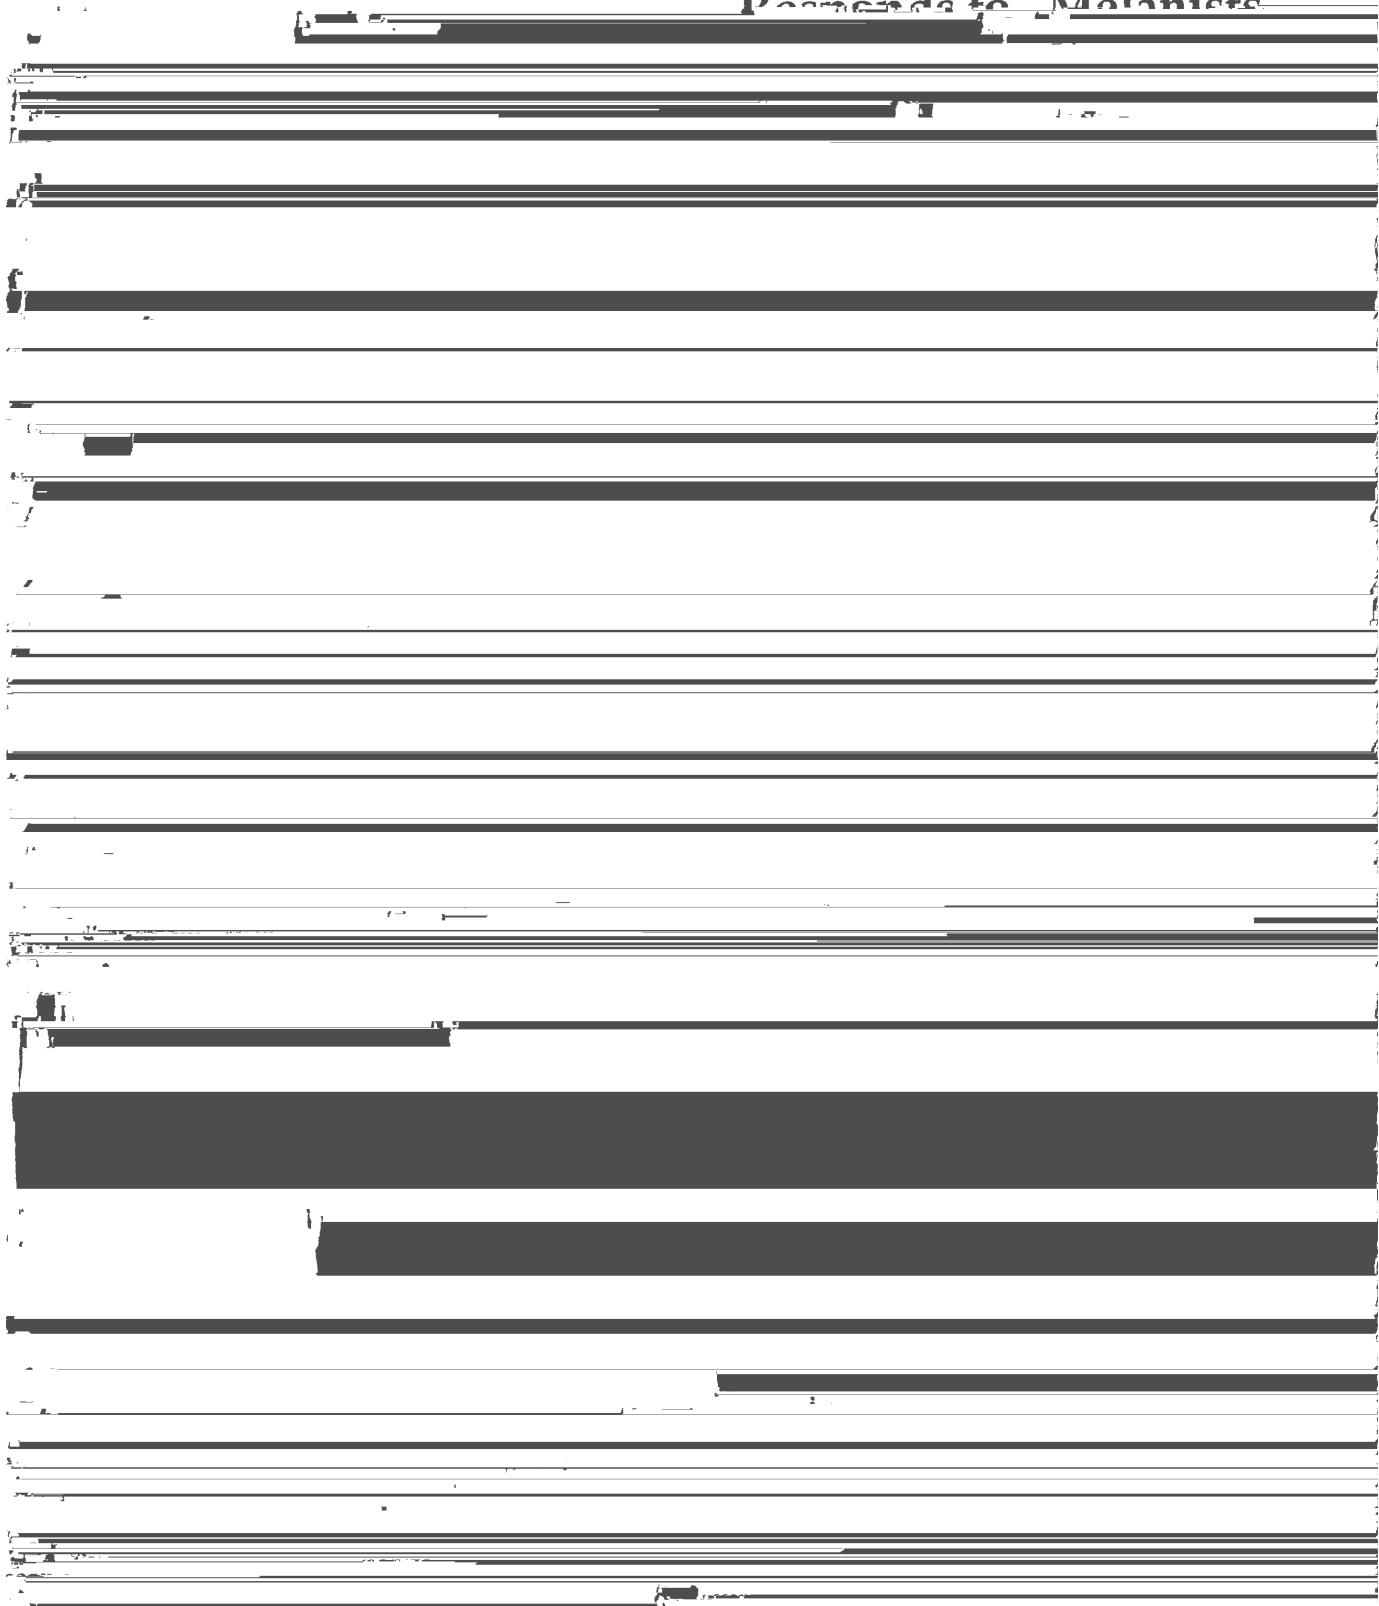

N E W S L E T T E R

Nos. 23-24 Fall 1993/ Spring 1994

Teaching Anthropology Newsletter

Afrocentric Curricula: An Anthropologist Responds to "Melanists" in Chicago; Dr. Wade Nobles, a psychologist at San children are being taught what he calls pseudoscience,

[REDACTED]

the point and Dr. Francisco Casas Melgarejo, a psychiatrist in the black region (Ortiz de Montellano 1992:55)

[REDACTED]

U.S. Department of the Interior
National Park Service
Cultural Resources
Departmental Consulting Archeologist

Technical Brief No. 15
October 1993
ISSN 1057-1574
Archeological Assistance

State Archeology Weeks:
Archeology for the Public

Mara Greengrass, Archeological Assistance Division, National Park Service

Federal Archaeology Report, published several times a year by the U.S. National Park Service, Archeological Assistance Division, P.O. Box 37127, Washington, DC 20013-

[The main body of the page is obscured by heavy horizontal black bars, making the text illegible.]

Archeology Weeks

Education Service, 15/17 Great Marlborough
Road, London W1M 1AE, England

[The bottom section of the page is also obscured by heavy horizontal black bars, making the text illegible.]

Field Notes for Archaeology Educators

Archaeology and Public Education, newsletter of the Society for American Archaeology Public Education Committee, is sporting a new look. Part of its new look is "The Education Station", a four-page insert featuring practical reports on how archaeology can be integrated into the precollege classroom.

Some examples:

How elementary school students helped excavate a Native American archaeological site in Williston,

Vermont:

For Nova Scotians

Discovering Archaeology: An Activity Book for Young Nova Scotians

by Denise M. Hansen

Archaeology. Museum illustrator Etta Moffatt's warmly humorous drawings allow the book to both entertain and instruct.

Discovering Archaeology was a labor of love for the

My involvement in the production and promotion of this book has been a learning experience. "Adventures in Book Land" could easily suffice as a working title for this article. I will confess to involvement becoming obsession authors, albeit a rather painful one. "Team writing" from concept to final edited product meant a series of lengthy, when I found myself returning to a certain children's book store weekly just to count the number of copies sold. I

Central Trust Site in Halifax is located on the west side of the site. The artifacts uncovered date between 1750 and 1800. The site was discovered by a pioneer by watching the construction of a new office tower.

SACC Notes

Teaching Anthropology

Biological Anthropology Teaching Aids

Need biological anthropology teaching aids? If so,

Another Teaching

consult a timely variety of audio-visual materials prepared

Off The Presses . . .

The growth of precollege anthropology publications attests to the growing popularity of the subject. Some noteworthy recent releases:

Archaeologists at Work: A Teacher's Guide to Classroom Archaeology, 1992, Alexandria, VA:

ARCHAEOLOGISTS AT WORK